

News Roundup

Beginnings

Use this talkboard to tell everyone about news that's important to you. It doesn't have to be anything amazing or startling. It might be an important world event, but it could be something quite personal. Write about things that made you happy or sad, things that surprised you, things you worked hard for and so on. See below for some examples.

This talkboard will be open throughout the year, so please come here whenever there's any news you'd like to share.

My news

I did really well in my exam!
I went abroad for the first time!

School news

We've got a new pool!
We had a rubbish clearing project.

Town news

A new cinema's just opened.
The flowers are out in the park.

World news

The weather's really odd right now.
The host city for the 2012 Olympics
has been announced

Family news

We've got a new puppy!
We had friends round for a barbecue.

Class news

We won the class singing competition.
We got into big trouble today.

News from Japan / the UK

There was a heavy snowfall - in April!
There are protests about a new road

Don't forget to reply!

After reading other people's news, please write to them with your comments and thoughts. If you find someone writing about similar things to you, then write about your opinions and take the discussion a bit deeper.

