

Message draff z

Geffing into defail

How was your first message? Did you manage to say what you wanted to? Did you find anyone else on the talkboard who's interested in the same thing? If so, why not try and look into it in more detail? Think about your topic from new angles and plan a follow up message. Don't forget that you can also reply to other people's messages and ask them questions.

our keyword:
	· What was interesting about your friend's
	 What was interesting about your friend's message?
	message?Is their experience the same as yours?
	message?Is their experience the same as yours?Are you sure? How can you check?
	 message? Is their experience the same as yours? Are you sure? How can you check? Are there differences between towns and regions in your own country?
	 message? Is their experience the same as yours? Are you sure? How can you check? Are there differences between towns and regions in your own country? Use books or the internet to find out more
	 message? Is their experience the same as yours? Are you sure? How can you check? Are there differences between towns and regions in your own country? 	